One of those perks is an exclusive invitation to JMC's Audio and Music students to participate in the International Writers Camp at the Haarlem Conservatory of Music, just outside Amsterdam.

The International Writers Camp brings together student writers, producers and musicians from around the world, to spend an intensive week writing, recording, and producing songs for current artists. You will have the opportunity to collaborate with other writers from across the globe, writing to specific briefs which you will then pitch to producers and artists from major labels like BMG/Talpa, Warner Chappell, Sony/ATV Music Publishing, CTM Publishing, and Armada Music.
